Causing His Name to Live: Studies in Egyptian Epigraphy and History in Memory of William. J. Murnane

Citation metadata
Author: William H. Peck
Date: July-September 2011
Publisher: American Oriental Society
Document Type: Book review
Length: 555 words

Main content
Article Preview:

Bill Murnane, as he was known by almost everyone, was one of the most exceptional Egyptologists of recent years. His unfortunate and sudden early death at age fifty-five ended an all too short career filled with prior accomplishments and promise of things to come. In the more usual course in academia he would have lived to a considerable age, retired, and been honored by his colleagues and friends with a festschrift composed of scholarly contributions that would surely have been of interest to him. Since this was not the case, a memorial volume to...

Access from your library
This is a preview. Get the full text through your school or public library.

Source Citation
Source Citation

Gale Document Number: GALE|A289621970

Explore
This is a preview. Get the full text through your school or public library.

Footer
- About
- Contact Us
- Terms of Use
- Privacy Policy
- Accessibility

the art, history and chronology of the reigns of Akhenaten and his immediate successors. Other contributions deal with historical issues, especially those connected with "Causing His Name to Live: Studies in Egyptian Epigraphy and History in Memory of William J. Murnane". Usurped Cartouches of Merenptah at Karnak and Luxor. External links. Brand's University of Memphis homepage.

Categories: Categories

Text is available under the CC BY-SA 4.0 license; additional terms may apply. Images, videos and audio are available under their respective licenses. Cover photo is available under "Unknown" license. Cover photo is available under "Unknown" license. Credit: (see original file). Enjoying Wikiwand? Essays in memory of William J. Murnane (1945-2000) honor his life-long dedication to Egyptian epigraphy and history. Studies offered here reflect his interests in Egyptian history, especially the Amarna period, and in the epigraphic documentation and historical analysis of the monuments of ancient Thebes. Get A Copy. Amazon. Causing His Name to Live: Studies in Egyptian Epigraphy and History in Memory of William J. Murnane (Culture and History of the Ancient Near East). ISBN. 9004176446 (ISBN13: 9789004176447).