He was very excited, and began to call joyously in all directions he shared his plans with Herb and Morrie and Bat, and then tore over to the hospital. (Th.W.) Sustained metaphor. Beauty is but a flower. Which wrinkles will devour. (O. N.) The idea grew and flowered. ...As the great champion of freedom and national independence he conquers and annexes half the world and calls it Colonization. (B. Sh.) Hyperbole. ...he'll go to sleep, my God he should, eight martinis before dinner and enough wine to wash an elephant. (T.C.) Understatement. There was not a fraction of a second without its flash and roar. Them gold pieces would have been the death o' me, and with this great lump of silver—". So she went off again planning what she would do, and feeling as rich as rich, until becoming a bit tired again she stopped to rest and gave a look round to see if her treasure was safe; and she saw nothing but a great lump of iron "Well! I never!" says she again. So on she trotted full of plans as to how she would spend her penny pieces, till once more she stopped to rest and looked round to see her treasure was safe. And this time she saw nothing but a big stone. "Well! 4. I wanted to knock over the table and hit him until my arm had no more strength in it, then give him the boot, give him the boot, give him the boot—I drew a deep breath. . . (J. Br.) 5. There followed six months in Chicago, in which he painted not one picture that was satisfactory to him, that was not messed into nothingness by changes and changes and changes. (Dr.) 7. One may see by their footprints that they have not walked arm in arm; and that they have not walked in a straight track, and that they have walked in a moody humour. (D). 8. It were better that he knew nothing. 9. He sat, still and silent, until his future landlord accepted his proposals and, brought writing materials to complete the business. He sat, still and silent, while the landlord wrote. (D.)
